Pat: I guess so. Even though I seem to be over the worst of it, I don't want to give the bug to anyone in the office.

Alice: Yes. Better not.

1.【答案】C

【解析】空格前 Sydney 问 Steve 脸色苍白（pale）的原因，所以空格处应填原因：昨天晚上我一点都没睡。故选 C。

5.【答案】B

【解析】Sydney 又问 Steve：你心里有什么事吗？所以空格处应填：看上去你很焦虑。concerned 的意思是“关心的，焦虑的”，故选 B。

6.【答案】A

【解析】接下来 Steve 解释焦虑原因：我的老板对我要求太高了，给了我三个项目，现在都要到期了。所以空格处填“我都还没有完成”比较吻合。故选 A。

Section B

Part Ⅲ Reading Comprehension (25 points)

Section A

Directions: In this section, there are four passages followed by questions or unfinished statements, each with four suggested answers A, B, C and D. Choose the best answer and mark your answer on the Answer Sheet.

Passage One

Have you ever felt your life go into slow motion as you realize something bad is happening? Now scientists have measured exactly how much these attention-grabbing events slow down our perception of the world around us.

An example of the world appearing to slow down is when you are hanging on the phone waiting for someone to pick up at the other end. If your attention wanders while you're waiting, then suddenly switches back, you will probably hear what seems like a longer than usual silence before hearing the dialing tone again.

To see how our perception of time changes when something new happens, Vincent Walsh and his colleagues put headphones on volunteers and played eight beeps to their right ears. The gap between each beep was exactly 1 second, except for the gap between the fourth and fifth beeps, which the scientists could make shorter or longer. They altered the length of this gap until the volunteers estimated it was the same length as the other gaps. The researchers found that, on average, people judge a second slightly short, at 955 milliseconds.

In the second part of the experiment, the first four beeps were played to the subjects' right ear, but the other four were then played to their left. Again, the volunteers were asked to estimate when the gap between the fourth and fifth beeps was the same as the others. This time they judged a second to be even shorter at 825 milliseconds long.

Perceiving a second to be much shorter than it is makes you feel as though the world has gone into slow motion. Walsh thinks the effect could have evolved to give us a fraction more time to react to potentially threatening events.

21. After you noticed a car hurtling towards you, you might feel that _____.
A. the world around you had slowed down
B. something bad was going to happen
C. life had suddenly become meaningless

Passage Two

The Internet can make the news more democratic, giving the public a chance to ask questions and seek out facts behind stories and candidates, according to the head of the largest U. S. online service.

"But the greatest potential for public participation is still in the future," Steven Case, Chairman of America Online, told a recent meeting on Journalism and the Internet sponsored by the Freedom Forum (讨论会). However, some other experts often say the new technology of computers is changing the face of journalism, giving reporters access to more information and their readers a chance to ask questions and turn to different sources.

"You don't have to buy a newspaper and be confined to the four comers of that paper any more," Sam Meddis, online technology editor at USA Today, observed about the variety of information available to computer users.

But the experts noted the easy access to the Internet also means anyone can post information for others to see. "Anyone can say anything they want, whether it's right or wrong," said Case. Readers have to determine for themselves who to trust. "In a world of almost infinite voices, respected journalists and respected brand names will probably become more important, not less," Case said.

"The Internet today is about where radio was 80 years ago, or television 50 years ago or cable 25 years ago," he said. But it is growing rapidly because it provides people fast access to news and a chance to comment on it.

26. The main topic of this passage is _____.
A. the development of journalism

D. anything can be posted on the Internet for others to see
【答案】D

【解析】细节题。根据第四段第二、三句“'Anyone can say anything they want, whether it's right or wrong,' said Case. Readers have to determine for themselves who to trust.”可知，“每个人都能在互联网上说他们想说的，不管对错”，这不是优势。故选 D。

28. The correct order for the appearance of the four technologies is _____.

A. Internet — cable — television — radio

B. radio — television — cable — Internet

【解析】细节题。根据文章最后一段第一句可知，收音机出现在 80 年前，电视机出现在 50 年前，有线电视出现在 25 年前，故其出现顺序为：收音机—电视机—有线电视—互联网。故选 B。

29. Which of the following statements is true?

A. Only respected journalists can post information on the Internet for others to see.

B. Respected journalists will probably become more important than before.

C. Everyone is using the Internet now.

D. The greatest potential of public participation of the Internet is in the near future.

【答案】B

【解析】细节题。根据第四段最后一句“'In a world of almost infinite voices, respected journalists and respected brand names will probably become more important, not less,' Case said.”可知，在一个充斥着无数种声音的世界里，受人尊重的记者和品牌将可能会变得更加重要。故选 B。

Passage Three

Oceanography has been defined as "The application of all sciences to the study of the sea". Before the nineteenth century, scientists with an interest in the sea were few and far between. Certainly Newton considered some theoretical aspects of it in his writings, but he was reluctant to go to sea to further his work.

For most people the sea was remote, and with the exception of early intercontinental travelers or others who earned a living from the sea, there was little reason to ask many questions about it let alone to ask what lay beneath the surface. The first time that question "What is at the bottom of the oceans?" had to be answered with any commercial consequence was when the laying of a telegraph cable from Europe to America was proposed. The engineers had to know the depth profile of the route to estimate the length of cable that had to be manufactured.

It was to Maury of the U. S. Navy that the Atlantic Telegraph Company turned, in 1853, for information on this matter. In the 1840s, Maury had been responsible for encouraging voyages during which soundings were taken to investigate the depths of the North Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. Later, some of his findings aroused much popular interest in his book The Physical Geography of the Sea.

The cable was laid, but not until 1866 was the connection made permanent and reliable. At the early attempts, the cable failed and when it was taken out for repairs it was found to be covered in living growths, a fact which defied contemporary scientific opinion that there was no life in the deeper parts of the sea.

Within a few years oceanography was under way. In 1872 Thomson led a scientific expedition which lasted for four years and brought home thousands of samples from the sea. Their classification and analysis occupied scientists for years and led to a five-volume report, the last volume being published in 1895.

31. The proposal to lay a telegraph cable from Europe to America made oceanographic studies take on _____.

A. an academic aspect

B. a military aspect

C. a business aspect

D. an international aspect

【答案】C

【解析】细节题。根据第二段第二句“The first time that question 'What is at the bottom of the oceans?' had to be answered with any commercial consequence was when the laying of a telegraph cable from Europe to America was proposed.”可知，人们第一次带着商业目的来回答：“海底是什么样子的”这个问题，是在提议铺设从欧洲到美国的通信电缆的时候。business 和 commercial 意思相对应，故选 C。

32. The aim of the voyages Maury was responsible for in the 1840s was _____.

A. to make some sounding experiments in the oceans

B. to collect samples of sea plants and animals

D. to measure the depths of the two oceans

【答案】D

【解析】细节题。根据第三段第二句“In the 1840s, Maury had been responsible for encouraging voyages during which soundings were taken to investigate the depths of the North Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.”可知，在 19 世纪 40 年代，Maury 负责主持一系列的航行，在这期间，他们采用探通术勘察北大西洋和太平洋的深度。故选 D。

33. "Defied" in the 4th paragraph probably means "_____".

35. What does the sentence "Within a few years oceanography was under way" mean?
A. Several years later the study of oceanography disappeared.
B. More and more studies and expeditions on oceanography began to appear.
C. The expedition led by Thomson began in 1872.
D. The five-volume report was published in 1895.
【答案】B
【解析】语义理解题。under way 意为“在进行”，这句话的意思是，几年之内海洋地理学开始进行了。结合后面的例证，故选 B。

Passage Four

Scraps of food could soon be helping power your home, thanks to an ultra-cheap bacteria-driven battery. Its developers hope that instead of feeding the dog or making garden compost (混合肥料), organic household waste could top up your home's electricity.

Although such "microbial fuel cells" (MFCs) have been developed in the past, they have always proved extremely inefficient and expensive. Now Chris Melhuish and technologists at the University of the West of England (UWE) have come up with a simplified MFC that costs as little as £10 to make.

Right now, their fuel cell runs only on sugar cubes, since these produce almost no waste when broken down, but they aim to move on to carrot power. "It has to be able to use raw materials, rather than giving it a refined fuel," says Melhuish.

Inside the walkman-sized battery, a colony of E. coli bacteria produce enzymes that break down carbohydrates, releasing hydrogen atoms. The cell also contains chemicals that drive a series of redox, or reduction and oxidation reactions, stripping electrons from the hydrogen atoms and delivering them steadily to the fuel cell's anode (正极). This creates a voltage that can be used to power a circuit.

To prove the MFC works, the researchers are using it to power a small light-sensitive robot. When a number of the cells are connected in series, they could power domestic appliances, running a 40-watt bulb for eight hours on about 50 grams of sugar.

Earlier MFCs were inefficient because they relied on energy-hungry filters and pumps. By experimenting with different anode materials, the UWE team have figured out how to make their system work: they dump the bacteria and redox chemicals directly into the cell.

In its current form, the UWE team says its organic battery can produce eight times as much power as any previous MFC. But Melhuish wants to improve this, both by scaling it up and finding a better mix of redox chemicals.

36. Which of the following would be the most appropriate title for the passage?
A. Microbial Fuel Cells
B. Cost-efficient Microbial Fuel Cells
C. The Efficiency of Microbial Fuel Cells
D. Organic Battery Runs Robot
【答案】B
【解析】主旨大意题。综合各段的主题句可以看出本文主要是介绍一种成本低、产能高的新型微生物燃料电池。故选 B。

37. Chris Melhuish and technologists are trying to use household wastes to _____.
A. feed domestic animals
B. make garden compost
C. produce electricity
D. manufacture bacteria
【答案】C
【解析】细节题。根据第一段最后一句“...organic household waste could top up your home's electricity.”可知，使用家庭垃圾的目的就是发电，故选 C。

38. Earlier MFCs were inefficient because they _____.
A. produced very little electricity
B. required different anode materials
C. consumed much energy on filters and pumps
D. could only run domestic appliances
【答案】C
【解析】细节题。根据第六段第一句“Earlier MFCs were inefficient because they relied on energy-hungry filters and pumps.”可知，早期的 MFCs 低效是因为它们依赖于高耗能的过滤器和水泵。energy-hungry 意思是“高能耗的”。故选 C。

39. According to Melhuish, his present MFC _____.
A. is of very little use right now
B. is no more efficient than previous ones
C. consumes a lot of organic materials
D. is already considerably efficient
【答案】D
【解析】推断题。根据最后一段第一句“In its current form, the UWE team says its organic battery can produce eight times as much power as any previous MFC.”可知，新型有机电池产生的能量是从前的 MFC 电池的 8 倍，这说明这种型号的 MFC 效率已经很高了。故选 D。

40. Which of the following statements is NOT TURE according to the passage?

A. The MFC is not a kind of new-developed fuel.

B. The MFC was not spread used in the past partly because of its high cost.

C. The MFC was proved to be able to power domestic appliances.

D. The previous MFC can produce eight times as much power as the current organic battery.

【答案】D

【解析】细节题。根据第二段第一句“Although such 'microbial fuel cells' (MFCs) have been developed in the past, they have always proved extremely inefficient and expensive.”可知，虽然微生物能源电池早在过去已经得到发展，但是却被证明是非常无效且昂贵的。A、B 是正确的。根据第五段最后一句“When a number of the cells are connected in series, they could power domestic appliances...”可知，C 也正确。D 选项应该是“Organic battery can produce eight times as much power as any previous MFC.”，有机电池产生的能量是过去微生物电池的 8 倍，所以 D 不正确。故选 D。

Section B

Directions: In this section, you are required to read one quoted blog and the comments on it. The blog and the comments are followed by questions or unfinished statements, each with four suggested answers A, B, C and D. Choose the best answer and mark your answer on the Answer Sheet*.*

Psychologists warn that plastic surgery can lead to an identity crisis, among other psychological issues. If you were a fan of the MTV reality series The Hills, you'll remember the complete physical transformation of Heidi Montag. In mere months, she went from a petite (矮小), natural beauty from Colorado to resembling some sort of blonde Barbie as a result of multiple facial and body reconstructive surgeries that she didn't even attempt to hide from the public. What's worse is that she was in her early 20s at the time.

We all figured that deep psychological issues were at the root of Montag's shocking procedure list, and now, according to a number of U. S. psychologists, we can safely assume that she may also be suffering from an identity crisis.

Psychologist Paul Lorene tells the Daily Mail that most patients undergo cosmetic surgery for the wrong reasons, wanting to look similar to a particular model or actor. "They have this glorified picture of this perfect identity," he says, and this can lead to deep psychological problems when the patients discover the identity they were after isn't actually perfect.

Often people don't realize the attachments they have to their facial features until they alter them with surgery. Perhaps you always hated your large nose, but whether you liked it or not, it was a part of you for your life thus far. If you have surgery to make it smaller, it is reasonable to believe that yourself identity could suffer if you end up feeling disconnected from your own face that is now unfamiliar.

Do you think cosmetic surgeries can cause identity crisis?

Comment 1:

The image that people see in the mirror and take for granted actually runs deeper. After 10 appearance-altering surgery, some patients come to realize "that imperfection is actually part of their identity".

Comment 2:

The identity crisis exists long before the surgery takes place. If you don't get plastic surgery you will still have an identity crisis. I have identity crisis every morning when I look in the mirror. When did I get older? And where the hell is my hair?

Comment 3:

To quote American Judge Judy, "Beauty fades, dumb is forever."

Comment 4:

When you look in the mirror and don't recognize yourself, then you have an identity crisis. Really, these studies and articles of this sort are stating the obvious.

41. The main idea of the quoted blog is that _____.

Part Ⅵ Translation (10 points)

Directions: Translate the following passage into Chinese. Write your translation on the Answer Sheet*.*

To the average person knowledge itself is of importance because of its bearing upon what he needs to do and to make. It helps him in clarifying his wants, in constructing his ends and in finding means for realizing them. There exist, in other words, values as well as known facts and principles, and philosophy is concerned primarily with values —— with the ends for the sake of which man acts. Given the most extensive and accurate system of knowledge, man is still confronted with the question of what he is going to do about it and what he is going to do with the knowledge in his possession.

My Approach to Personal Success

It is generally acknowledged that a successful person should make greater contributions to social progress and the well beings. However, a successful person also means his personal happiness in return, at least, in most cases.

Though I am inexperienced in fighting for future as a young man, I know first of all I must study and work hard. Working hard means overcoming difficulties and learning to be more creative and original in achieving what the others can't or fail to.

By doing so, I think, first of all, we should have a definite life goal. Secondly, we must always check our plans and work steadfast towards the goal. Thirdly, accumulate knowledge and skills to make ourselves competent in our working posts. And, the last of all is to have a team work spirit in getting along with our colleagues, which is surely the key to our future success in life.
