Part Ⅲ　Reading Comprehension (25 points)

Section A

Directions: In this section, there are four passages followed by questions or unfinished statements, each with four suggested answers A, B, C and D. Choose the best answer and mark your answer on the Answer Sheet.

Passage One

More American mothers than ever are working, and more workers are mothers. Yet their march into the world of paid work continues to cause suspicion. One recent survey found that 48 percent of Americans believe that preschoolers suffer if their mothers work, while another found that 42 percent of employed parents think that working mothers care more about succeeding at work than meeting their children's needs.

The kids are all right. Studies conducted by the University of Michigan have consistently demonstrated that a child's social or academic competence does not depend on whether a mother is employed. In my research four out of five children told me that having a working mother was their preferred arrangement. My study found that children with working mothers are no more likely to drop out, take drugs, break the law, or experiment with sex prematurely than children with non-employed mothers. Children have taken their mothers' example to heart. Ninety percent of the young women I interviewed said they hoped to combine work with motherhood, while two-thirds of the men said they wanted to share parenting and work.

Sadly, children support working mothers more than we do as a society. Parental leave and child-care benefits in the United States remain inadequate, particularly when compared to what's offered in other countries. Children thrive when their mothers have satisfying, well-paid jobs when they can count on other caretakers to share the load. The challenge facing us is thus not whether good workers can also be good mothers, but whether we can create the conditions that enable working mothers and fathers to be good parents.

21. From the first paragraph, we can see that _____.

A. now more American mothers are working than any time in American history and anywhere else in the world

B. more than half Americans think that before going to school, children need their mothers' whole-hearted care

C. a majority of Americans believe that once working outside home mothers think of their own work more than their children

D. more American mothers work than ever before, but this problem of working mothers has not been solved satisfactorily

【答案】D

22. From the passage, we can not find the proof of the fact that _____.

A. mothers do their household work today just as well as they did before

B. with their mothers working, children are better off

C. lack of mothers' care, children like to go astray

D. in single-parent families, most children like their mothers to go out working

【答案】C

【解析】细节题。第二段说“My study found that children with working mothers are no more likely to drop out, take drugs, break the law, or experiment with sex prematurely than children with non-employed mothers.”根据他自己的研究，青少年辍学、吸毒以及违反法律等情况的发生率，在母亲外出工作的家庭中与母亲不外出工作的家庭中相同。故选 C。

23. In the last paragraph, "Parental leave and child-care benefits in the United States remain inadequate" actually refers to _____.

B. parental leave and child care is contradicted

C. children have inadequate care from their parents

D. in the United States, parents enjoy inadequate child-care leave and allowance

A. They need the support of males.

A. We should let mothers work without worries.
B. It is better for mothers to stay at home.
C. We should work hard, especially mothers.
D. Like mothers, like children.
【答案】A
【解析】主旨大意题。文章最后一段提到美国社会对工作的母亲支持不够的问题。最后一句说“The challenge facing us is thus not whether good workers can also be good mothers, but whether we can create the conditions that enable working mothers and fathers to be good parents.”意为，我们现在面临的挑战不是好的工作人员能否成为好母亲的问题，而是我们能否创造条件使工作的父母成为好父母的问题。故选 A。

Passage Two

There are over 6,000 different computer and online games in the world now. A segment of them are considered to be both educational and harmlessly entertaining. One such game teaches geography, and another trains pilots. Others train the player in logical thinking and problem solving. Some games may also help young people to become more computer literature, which is more important in this technology-driven era.

But the dark side of the computer games has become more and more obvious. "A segment of games features anti-social themes of violence, sex and crude language", says David Walsh, President of the National Institute on Media and Family. "Unfortunately, it's a segment that seems particularly popular with kids aged eight to fifteen."

One study showed that almost 80 percent of the computer and online games young people preferred contained violence. The investigators said "These are not just games anymore. These are learning machines. We're teaching kids in the most incredible manner what it's like to pull the trigger. What they are not learning are the real-life consequences."

They also said "The new and more sophisticated games are even worse, because they have better graphics and allow the player to participate in even more realistic violent acts." In the game Carmageddon, for example, the player will have driven over and killed up to 33,000 people by the time all levels are completed. A description of the outcome of the game says: "Your victims not only squish under your tires and splatter blood on the windshield, they also get on their knees and beg for mercy, or commit suicide. If you like, you can also dismember (肢解) them."

Is all this simulated violence harmful? Approximately 3,000 different studies have been conducted on this subject. Many have suggested that there is a connection between violence in games and increased aggressiveness in the players.

Some specialists downplay the influence of the games, saying that other factors must be taken into consideration, such as the possibility that kids who already have violent tendencies are choosing such games. But could it be that violent games still play a contributing role? It seems unrealistic to insist that people are not influenced by what they see. If that were true, why would the commercial world spend billions of dollars annually for television advertising?

26. Which of the following computer games is NOT mentioned as educational and harmlessly entertaining?

A. Those that help people learn more about computers.

B. Those that teach the features of the earth.

C. Those that provide special training for writers online.

D. Those that provide special training for pilots.

【答案】C

【解析】细节题。根据第一段可知，人们认为有一些电脑游戏既有教育意义又有一定的娱乐作用。有的电脑游戏教人们学地理，有的可以训练飞行员，有的可以训练人们的逻辑思维能力和解决问题的能力，有些游戏还可以帮助人们了解更多的计算机语言，这在我们这个技术驱动的时代是更加重要的。这里没有提到训练网上写作（special training for writers online）。故选 C。

27. According to one study, most computer and online games _____.

A. allow the players to take part in killing acts

B. teach the players to be antisocial

C. make the players forget the real life results

D. that young people like contain violence

【答案】D

【解析】细节题。第三段第一句“One study showed that almost 80 percent of the computer and online games young people preferred contained violence.”可知，一项研究表明青年人喜欢的电脑游戏和网上游戏中 80%含有暴力的内容。故选 D。

28. Many studies have suggested that _____.

A. more and more young people enjoy cruel computer games

B. violence in computer games makes their players more aggressive

C. there are now far more incidents of violence due to computer games

D. simulated violence in computer games is different from real violence

【答案】B

【解析】推断题。第五段最后一句“Many have suggested that there is a connection between violence in games and increased aggressiveness in the players.”可知，许多研究表明游戏中的暴力与玩游戏的人的暴力倾向增强是有关系的。故选 B。

29. The author uses "television advertising" as an example to show that _____.

A. other factors must be considered as possible causes of violence in real life

B. computer and online games are not the only cause of increased violence in real life

C. the commercial world is contributing to the increased violence in real life

D. there is a close link between computer games and increased violence in real life

【答案】D

【解析】推断题。最后一段最后两句“It seems unrealistic to insist that people are not influenced by what they see. If that were true, why would the commercial world spend billions of dollars annually for television advertising?”可知，看来认为人们不受他们所看到的东西影响是不现实的。如果不受影响的话，为什么商家每年要花数十亿美元做电视广告呢？故选 D。

30. The best title for the passage could be _____.

A. The Dark Side of Computer Games

B. Computer Games — Advantages and Disadvantages

C. The Development of Violent Computer Games

D. A Study on the Influence of Computer Games

【答案】A

【解析】主旨题。全文主要介绍了电脑游戏的负面影响。根据第二段第一句“But the dark side of the computer games has become more and more obvious.”可知，电脑游戏的负面影响越来越明显了。该句为全文的主题句。故选 A。

Passage Three

"The world's environment is surprisingly healthy." If that were an examination topic, most students would tear it apart, offering a long list of complaints: from local smog (烟雾) to global climate change, from the felling (砍伐) of forests to the extinction of species. The list would largely be accurate, the concern legitimate. Yet the students who should be given the highest marks would actually be those who agreed with the statement. The surprise is how good things are, not how bad.

After all, the world's population has more than tripled during this century, and world output has risen hugely. So you would expect the earth itself to have been affected. Indeed, if people lived, consumed and produced things in the same way as they did in 1900 (or 1950, or indeed 1980), the world by now would be a pretty disgusting place: smelly, dirty, toxic and dangerous.

But they don't. The reasons why they don't, and why the environment has not been ruined have to do with prices, technological innovation, social change and government regulation in response to popular pressure. That is why today's environmental problems in the poor countries ought, in principle, to be solvable.

Raw materials have not run out and show no sign of doing so. Logically, one day they must: the planet is a finite place. Yet it is also very big, and man is very ingenious. What has happened is that every time a material seems to be running short, the price has risen and, in response, people have looked for new sources of supply, tried to find ways to use less of the material, or looked for a new substitute. For this reason, prices for energy and for minerals have fallen in real terms during the century. The same is true for food. Prices fluctuate, in response to harvests, natural disasters and political instability; and when they rise, it takes some time before new sources of supply become available. But they always do assisted by new farming and crop technology. The long-term trend has been downwards.

It is where prices and markets do not operate properly that this benign (良性的) trend begins to scumble, and the genuine problems arise. Markets cannot always keep the environment healthy. If no one owns the resource concerned, no one has an interest in conserving it or fostering it: fish is the best example of this.

31. The author thinks most students _____.

A. believe the world's environment is in an undesirable condition

B. agree that the environment of the world is not as bad as it is thought to be
C. get high marks for their good knowledge of the world's environment
D. seem not care about the state of the world's environment
【答案】A
【解析】推理题。题干问的是作者认为大多数学生。文章第一段前两句提到，如果“全球环境状况非常好”是一个考试题目的话，大多数学生会将试卷撕碎，并列出一长串的抱怨：从当地的烟雾污染到全球的气候变化，从森林的砍伐到物种的灭绝。由此可推断，大多数学生认为全球环境状况并不令人满意。故选 A（认为全球环境现状很糟糕）。B 项（同意全球环境并没有人们想象的那么糟糕）、C 项（在关于全球环境知识上掌握得很好，取得了很高的分数）和 D 项（好像不关心全球环境的状况）均与原文意思不符，故排除。

32. The word "disgusting" (Para. 2) is closest in meaning to "_____".
A. harmonious
B. beautiful
C. excellent
D. unpleasant
【答案】D
【解析】语义题。题干问的是“disgusting”的意思最接近。根据文章第二段最后一句可知，如果人们还像以前一样居住、消费和生产的话，如今的世界就会是臭气熏天、脏兮兮、有毒且危险的。这些形容词都是消极、负面的词，因此 D 项符合原文感情色彩，故选 D（令人厌恶的）。A 项（和谐的）、B 项（漂亮的）和 C 项（很棒的）均与原文感情色彩相反，故排除。

33. One of the reasons why the long-term trend of prices has been downwards is that _____.
A. technological development can help social stability
B. harvests will cause consumption to drop
C. new farming and crop technology can lead to overproduction
D. new sources are always becoming available
【答案】D
【解析】细节题。题干问的是从长远看，物价呈下降趋势的一个原因是。根据文章第四段第四句和第五句可知，每当一种资源似乎就要匮乏时，其价格就会上升，相应地，人们会寻找新的资源，想方设法减少使用这种资源或者寻找新的替代品。正因为如此，21 世纪能源和矿产品的价格实质上已经下降了。故选 D（总能获得新的资源）。A 项（技术革新促进了社会稳定）文章并未提及，故排除。B 项（丰收会引起消费的下降）与原文第四段倒数第三句提到的价格会因丰收、自然灾害而波动意思不符，故排除。根据文章第四段倒数第二句可知，在新的农作技术的支持下，总能获得新的供给来源，C 项（新的农业和作物技术可能导致生产过剩）与之意思不符，故排除。

34. Fish resources are diminishing because _____.
A. they are over-fished
B. they are not owned by any particular entity
C. improper methods of fishing have ruined the fishing grounds
D. water is polluted seriously
【答案】B
【解析】推理题。题干问的是鱼类资源在减少的原因是。根据文章最后一段最后两句可知，

市场并不能总是保持环境的健康发展。如果相关的资源不属于任何人，人们就没有兴趣保护它、培养它。鱼类资源就是一个最好的例子。由此可知，鱼类资源不属于任何一个实体正是鱼类减少的原因，故选 B（鱼类资源不属于任何一个实体）。A 项（它们被过度捕捞）、C 项（不当的捕鱼方法损坏了渔区）和 D 项（水质污染非常严重）文章均未提及，故排除。

35. The primary solution to environmental problems is _____.

A. to allow market forces to operate properly

B. to limit the consumption of natural resources

C. to control the number of the world population

D. to avoid fluctuations in prices

【答案】A

【解析】细节题。题干问的是解决环境问题的主要办法是。根据文章最后一段第一句可知，在价格和市场手段不能正常运转的地方，这种良性的趋势就会动摇，就会出现环境能源等问题。因此，让市场价格手段正常地发挥作用才是解决环境问题的方法，故选 A（让市场力量正常运行）。B 项（限制自然资源的消耗）、C 项（控制世界人口的增长）和 D 项（避免价格上的波动）均与文章意思不符，故排除。

Passage Four

Faith in medicine runs deep in America. We spend more per person on health care than any other nation. Whether we eat too much or exercise too little, whether we're turning gray or feeling blue, we look to some pills or procedure to make us better.

We assume that devoting even more dollars to medicine will bring us longer, healthier lives. But there is mounting evidence that each new dollar we devote to the current health care system bringing small and diminishing returns to public health. Today the United States spends more than $ 4,500 per person per year on health care. Costa Rica spends less than $ 300. Yet life expectancy at birth is nearly identical in both countries.

Despite the highly publicized "longevity revolution", life expectancy among the elderly in the United States is hardly improving. Yes, we are an aging society, but primarily because of falling birthrates. Younger Americans, meanwhile, are far more likely to be disabled than they were 20 years ago. Most affected are people in their thirties, whose disability rates increased by nearly 130 percent, due primarily to overweight.

Why has our huge investment in health care left us so unhealthy? Partly it is because so many promised "miracle cures", from interferon to gene therapies, have proven to be ineffective or even dangerous. Partly it's because health care dollars are so concentrated on die terminally ill and the very old that even when medical interventions "work", the gains to average life expectancy are small. And partly it is because of medical errors and adverse reaction to prescription drugs, which cause more deaths than motor vehicle accidents, breast cancer or AIDS. Each year roughly 200,000 seniors suffer fatal or life-threatening "adverse drug events" due to improper drug use or drug interaction.

Why don't Americans live any longer than Costa Ricans? Overwhelmingly, it's because of differences in behavior. Americans exercise less, eat more, drive more, smoke more, and lead to more socially isolated lives. Even at its best, modem medicine can do little to promote productive aging, because by the time most people come in contact with it their bodies are already compromised by stress, indulgent habits, environmental dangers and injuries.

36. Americans in general believe that _____.

A. more money spent on health care may not result in better health

B. medicine may provide an effective cure for various health problems

C. health problems caused by bad habits can hardly be solved by medicine

D. higher birthrate can better solve the problem of aging society than medicine

【答案】B

【解析】细节题。第一段最后一句“Whether we eat too much or exercise too little, whether we're turning gray or feeling blue, we look to some pill or procedure to make us better.”可知，不管我们运动太少还是吃得太多，年龄增长还是情绪低落，我们都求助某些药物让我们解决问题。故选 B。

37. Compared with the Americans, Costa Ricans _____.

A. have a healthier way of life

B. enjoy a longer life expectancy

C. are more dependent on medicine

D. are less concerned about their health

【答案】A

【解析】推断题。最后一段前三句说为什么美国人均寿命不能超过哥斯达黎加？这主要是因为不同的生活习惯。美国人运动少，吃得多，开车多，吸烟多，导致更封闭的社会生活。也就是说哥斯达黎加人生活方式更健康。故选 A。

38. Which of the following is NOT a reason why health care investment fails to bring a longer life?

A. Drug reaction due to improper use of drugs.

B. Imbalanced distribution of health care money.

C. Soaring prices of both drugs and new therapies.

D. Failure of many highly-evaluated medical treatments.

【答案】C

【解析】细节题。第四段分析了医药方面投入巨大但却未能使美国人寿命更长的原因。其中谈到：①有些被认为神奇的药物或治疗其实并不有效；②投入主要集中在生命垂危的绝症以及老人身上，对人均寿命的贡献仍然很小；③对于某些药物的不良反应。并没有谈到医药价格的上涨。故选 C。

39. It is implied in the last paragraph that _____.

A. medicine should be taken timely before it is too late

B. it is reasonable to question the effectiveness of medicine

C. poor health conditions leave little room for medicine to work

D. great efforts should be made to develop new types of medicine

【答案】C

【解析】推断题。根据最后一段最后一句“Even at its best, modem medicine can do little to promote productive aging, because by the time most people come in contact with it their bodies are already compromised by stress, indulgent habits, environmental dangers and injuries.”可知，即使在最好的情况下药物也很难使人更健康更长寿，因为人们到了吃药的时候身体已经受到压力、放纵的习惯和环境污染等诸多问题所伤害。故选 C。

40. The passage is mainly focused on _____.

A. the limits of medicine

Researchers have found that short, intense exercise sessions prove to be healthier than longer, more moderate sessions with an equal caloric bum.

The study found that activities like running and jumping reduced participants' risk of developing metabolic syndrome (代谢综合征) by two-thirds, compared with moderate activities like walking and leisurely bike rides that burned an equal number of calories.

Metabolic syndrome is a set of health conditions that significantly increase your risk of heart disease and type 2 diabetes (糖尿病). Insulin (胰岛素) resistance and extra weight around the middle —— that dreaded "belly fat" —— are two major health conditions associated with the syndrome.

The researchers used data collected from 1,841 American adults. It is suggested that vigorous physical activity should be emphasized in public health guidelines for exercise.

Currently, the non-profit organization Society for Exercise Physiology recommends 150 minutes of moderate to vigorous physical activity per week for adults aged 18-64.

Avoiding metabolic syndrome isn't the only reason to change your exercise routine. One study found that gym goers who totaled 150 minutes of vigorous activity a week looked about 10 years younger than those who skip the gym altogether, while another study found that physical activity can cut the risk of breast cancer by up to 30 percent in older women at a healthy body weight.

Also in recent years, studies have determined that three minutes of intense exercise, three times a week, could be the equivalent to five one-hour sessions, reducing the risk of heart disease and diabetes.

Comment 1:

Exercising is very personal. Nobody can say which one suits you except yourself. I have been walking for 45-50 minutes every day for the past 10 years, and it's fine with me now. I think walking is the best way to keep me healthy.

Comment 2:

Exercise is just like anything. Don't overdo it but also don't just use it as an excuse to say you are working out. It needs to be in a good range to give you a good sweat but don't destroy yourself as well. The bottom line is to get out and exercise. It might not make you live longer but it definitely will make you healthier.

Comment 3:

Any exercise is good, short or long, fast or slow, especially the exercise in the fresh air.

Comment 4:

I've always done 15-20 minutes but I don't take breaks. I move from one machine to the next, after my first round, I grab some water and then do a second round and then I'm finished.

60 , want to spread Internet access. Within the next decade or two, one to two billion people on the planet will be netted together. 61 , I now believe the digital divide will narrow rather than widen in the years ahead. They suck air into your lungs, 66 , and tighten your blood vessels to raise blood pressure when you need more pressure for an emergency. Your heart is a muscular pump.

Directions: Translate the following passage into Chinese. Write your translation on the Answer Sheet*.*

Undoubtedly, advanced technology has brought much convenience to us, but modern people, especially students, are not supposed to hinge upon the technology all the time. There are two reasons to support the view. To start with, students shoulder the responsibility of learning. There is a "study" in the word of "student". Furthermore, the future progress of technology depends upon students. How can they advance the current scientific frontier without a total understanding of the basic knowledge? Of course, students are also supposed to learn by themselves with the help of technology, especially the Internet, for collecting information is an essential ability of modern people. However, there is a clear distinction between relying on the Web for everything and independent study.

【参考译文】

毫无疑问，先进的技术给我们带来了很多便利，但是现代人，尤其是学生，不应该完全依赖科技，其原因有两点。第一，学生的责任就是学习。有一个“学”字在“学生”一词中。

第二点，科技未来的发展在于学生。可是没有全面掌握基础知识，学生如何才能进一步推进科技向前发展？当然，学生也应该利用科技自学，尤其是互联网，毕竟搜集信息是现代人的必备技能。但是，完全依赖网络和自主学习之间是有明显区别的。

Advanced Technology Is Changing the Way We Learn

With the development of technology, every aspect of our life has changed and the way we learn is no exception. The use of the computer is a good example. With the help of the computer and the Internet, we can learn a great amount of knowledge without having to go to the classroom and ask professors to answer the questions, and we can also get access to the books we want to read in various libraries through the Internet.

With the application of advanced technology we can learn more easily and efficiently. For example, when we meet some new words while reading English articles, we don't have to look them up in a dictionary. With a click, the computer's electronic dictionary will immediately tell us the meaning of the new words. In addition, the computer can help us analyze our research data and finish papers more easily.

In a word, advanced technology has changed the way we learn and has helped us a lot in our study.
